

W. P. WALTON.

WITH SUPPLEMENT

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For the Legislature.

DR. J. D. PETTUS,
OF Crab Orchard.

SOMETIME ago, on the strength of a statement made to us by one of its intimate friends and supporters, who said he got the information from Gen. Buckner himself, we published an article which has since gone the entire rounds of the State, giving the general reasons for using tobacco so constantly, which was because it had been his sole companion for the 13 months that he was in solitary confinement, had kept him from going crazy and in sheer gratitude he would not now desert the friend in need, which had proven so great a friend indeed. We thought it was a beautiful little story and it made us feel even more kindly towards the old general than ever. But he has thrown all the fat in the fire by saying to Col. Craddock, "I am glad you have a better opinion of me than to believe such a story. I can't conceive how such an absurd misstatement ever got afloat. I was only in prison a few months and not severely treated." If the old man keeps on denying in this manner we'll soon doubt that he was in prison at all, that he was ever at Fort Donelson, or that he was the hero of any of the many pretty little stories floating around among his admirers.

CAPT. SAM E. HILL, who has been very favorably spoken of for the lieutenant governorship, writes to his friend, Masteron Peyton, Esq., that being unwilling to make the scramble which it now seems necessary to get any office, he has concluded to withdraw his name from the list of candidates, leaving his friends free to espouse the cause of any other candidate. With Senator Hill, who had a good following here, off the track we believe it would be the best thing our people could do, if they instruct at all in that race, to do so for Jim Bryan, of Covington, a young and progressive man and an orator that can hold his own with the best of them. With Bryan to talk to his head a few rounds, our esteemed friend, the gallant Col. Bradley, will wish that a millstone were about his neck and that he was cast into the sea. No matter who is at the head of the ticket, we shall need some such a man to counteract the effect of Billy's burning eloquence.

THE most rabid, ranting and uncompromising opponent of Senator Harris is Capt. Wallace Gruelle, of the Grayson Gazette. To read his choice effusions one is led to think that the old gentleman has an attack of the rabies or the jim jama, it is hard to tell which. Our venerable friend has lived long enough it seems to us to have learned that personal abuse is not argument, and such a warfare as he is making against a good man generally has the opposite effect from that intended. Does the good brother remember his tirade against Montgomery and how many voters that gentleman took up in his triumphant election to Congress?

OUR old friend, Soule Smith, the "Falcon" of the press, called the president of the city council, Mr. Kauffman, of Lexington, a liar, the other night, and got a feeler in his left optic from the irate Hebrew. Smith went for him then and there, and while they were rolling and tumbling on the floor friends interfered and the fight was declared a draw. The trouble grew out of some charges against the Hebrew's official crookedness made by Smith, which he denied and was thereupon given the lie. It is said that more blood will flow, but it is more than probable that hostilities are at an end.

THE fact that two candidates for State of some have dropped dead within a month will not deter the average seeker for honors from "shying his oyster in the ring." If all of the present noble army should fall that way, don't think we shall have to do without officers. The woods are full of men yet who will take anything that they can get from a deputy constableness to a left-tenant governor's office.

THE Owensboro Messenger, which knows something of the individual who opposes him, says the democrat of the entire State should work and pray for the success of Dr. Pettus in his race for the legislature. It will take but little work and less praying to accomplish the desired end for our man is as good as elected now.

GEN CLAY has thrown up the sponge, leaving our esteemed friend, the gallant warrior, Col. W. O. Bradley, a walk-over for the republican nomination for governor. What "me and Billy" can't do when we start out would be hard to tell. Together we might elect him, but we part company after May 4th.

A KENTUCKY editor has gotten there at last. Thomas D. Marcum, for a term register of the land office of this State and at present editor of the Catlettsburg Democrat, has been appointed Inspector of Indian Agencies at an annual salary of $2,000 and per diem expenses.

THEY will all finally fall into a solid line. Congressman Springer, of Illinois, erstwhile an anti-Cleveland man, is out in an interview favoring the re-nomination of Cleveland, praising him in high terms and predicting his re-election.

THE Louisville Commercial shows its lamentable ignorance in regard to our candidate for the republican nomination for governor by speaking of him as "Mr. William O'Connor Bradley, of the county of Lincoln." There are three separate and distinct errors in that one line. In the first place the gentleman alluded to is not a minister, but a colonel, promoted to that rank because of great valor in battle; in the second place his middle name is not O'Connor, but O'Donnell, and lastly, but by no means the least most unkind of all to a people who never did Mr. O'Sullivan any harm, Bradley does not hail from Lincoln county. Such ignorance is inexcusable, especially since there is a large and handsomely-bound book entitled "The Distinguished Men of Kentucky," which is procurable. In that book there is a steel-engraving of the handsome colonel, which cost him at least $50, and a history of his life, written by himself, or at his dictation, in which its stirring events are portrayed in glowing colors, which cost him another $50 or so to have printed. Go to, young man; get to a library; that of any vain individual, who imagines he is of more importance than he is, and you will find the most remarkable book you ever cast your two eyes upon.

THE case of William Kissane is another evidence of the fact that crime of other kinds than murder most always comes out. Thirty years ago the individual who bears the above name might have been convicted on either of the charges of steamboat burning, murder, swindling and forgery, but he managed to get off to California and striking a streak of luck he made both money and a good name, till now he is a wealthy man, highly respected and with a family of grown-up boys and girls, was passing the declining years of his life in peace and apparent happiness. He was known as Rogers and no one ever dreamed he was the fiend that it can be proved he was more than a score and a half of years ago, till he was finally discovered, and refusing to submit to a call for blackmail, his history has been published from one end of the country to the other. Public sympathy, however, is with him, as it ever is with a man who tries to atone for a mispent life by making a good citizen of himself, and his innocent family are the subjects of especial commiseration.

THE prohibition question is agitating the Lone Star State from centre to circumference and it would not surprise those who are watching the drift of events if it carried by a good majority. Senator Reagan, the father of the Interstate Commerce bill, wishing to be on the popular side, has somewhat in his opinion and is out in a letter strongly advocating the adoption of the amendment, whereas two years ago he warmly opposed it. Like the really true temperance men, however, he objects to making a party question out of a purely moral one, and insists that a law which has for its object the lessening of crime cannot be called a snuff-pottery law and is not therefore undemocratic.

IN a discussion of family affairs at Meadville, Pa., Mrs. Buchholz, emphasized a point she was trying to make by throwing a lighted lamp at Mr. Buchholz's head. An explosion followed, setting fire to both of them and the house. The wife was so badly burned that she died, the husband is fatally burned and the house is now a pile of ashes. All of which makes us say what we do say, that when a wife wants to beat her husband she had better do it with her favorite weapon, the broom stick.

BRO. KERN, of the Jessamine Journal, has failed to send us his paper since it arose Phoenix-like from ashes, but from a copy sent to us personally by some one, we observe that he gets the INTERIOR JOURNAL right along and appreciates it so much that he uses its editorials intact, forgetting of course to credit. Two or more appear in the issue before us, but it is all right; we love to help our friends out.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—C. O. Kamp, jeweler and prominent Cincinnati, is dead.

—St. Joseph, Mo., has been made a National Bank reserve city.

—Blaine was taken sick while out West, but was well enough to travel yesterday.

—The latest figures place the majority against prohibition in Michigan at 3,678.

—At Kilgore, Alex. Vallance shot and instantly killed Alex. McElvain. He claims it was an accident.

—Two laborers fell from the seventh story of a new building in New York city and were instantly killed.

—Four men were killed outright and three others injured by a boiler explosion near Harrisville, W. Va.

—Cincinnati is to have another new National bank, with $200,000 capital. Probable name, the Western.

—James E. Smith, candidate for State Auditor, died last week at his home near Flemingsburg, very suddenly.

—The woman suffrage amendment to the Constitution was defeated in Rhode Island Wednesday by a large majority.

—Edson M. Hubbard, of Rahway, N. J., has gone crazy from brooding over the recent mysterious murder at that place.

—The Rhode Island General Assembly now stands 50 democrats and 46 republicans, with four Senators and eight representatives yet to be elected.

—In a boarding-house occupied by railway laborers, near Carleton Springs, a man named Tompkins brutally murdered and robbed a room-mate named Parry.

—The two scoundrels, who so fiendishly assaulted Rev. Steve Holcomb in Louisville, Massani and Boggs, were fined $1,000 each and given five years in the State prison.

—Dr. Peckham was nominated by the democrats of Scott by a majority of 600 at Saturday's primary.

—During the three months ending April 1, there have been 1,040 miles of new main line railroad built in this country.

—Two men were blown to pieces and two fatally hurt by the bursting of a boiler in a saw-mill near Hereford, N. C.

—The prohibition vote in Rhode Island was only 1,558. The State declares against woman suffrage by a majority of 15,122.

—John T. Raymond, the comedian, died in Evansville early Sunday morning, after a brief illness. He made his fame as Col. Mulberry Sellers.

—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul has just settled up for the wreck at Kio, Wisconsin, in which 16 persons were killed outright. The deaths cost it $46,550, the wounded $4,750 and for baggage lost or destroyed $13,316.97.

—At Fort Smith, Ark., Friday, Patrick McCarty was hanged for the part he took in the murder of two brothers in Indian Territory. Shade Scarbrough, a negro, suffered death at Clayton, Ala., for a murder committed last July.

—Prof. F. L. Capen, of Boston, who predicted the earthquake last August, sends another prediction for an earthquake during a period between April 7 and 17, critical days being from the 10th to the 13th, but he says it will probably not be quite so severe as the last year's.

—William and Joseph Warford, two brothers, had an altercation at their home, fourteen miles south of Springfield, Ill., concerning a horse. William drew a revolver and shot Joseph, breaking his arm. He then went to his room and shot himself through the heart.

—In Richmond Friday afternoon Robert M. Harris was shot and fatally wounded by Will Willis in a quarrel over a division of the estate. Willis had recently eloped with Harris' sister, and as she had more money than beauty, it is supposed the former cut the largest figure in the transaction.

—The new Kansas liquor law makes it necessary for a man desiring to open a drug store to have 25 women signers to the petition, and a person who buys liquor must go before a notary public and make affidavit as to what use he will make of it and that it is not intended for a beverage.

—The Richmond Terminal railroad syndicate, having failed in its negotiations to obtain control of the Baltimore & Ohio, has, it is said, transferred its operations to Florida, where it has purchased the Florida Railway and Navigation Company's system of 550 and the Georgia Central railroad.

—Brown Allen, Mahone's Auditor of Virginia, gave his brother-in-law, Hamilton, $16,000 worth of tax bills against railroads to collect and paid him 20 per cent. for the work, when the legal per cent. was only 2½. The democrats took the case to the Supreme Court, which has just decided that Hamilton is only entitled to $600 and requiring him to return the balance of $2,600.

—The coal miners in the Jellico region of this State have gone out on a strike and as a consequence the Kenesee, Woodridge, East Tennessee, Standard and other mines are shut down, with no prospect of opening up for some months. There are about 700 men employed in the mines. The cause of the strike is a refusal on the part of the men to sign the yearly contract, requiring them to agree not to strike for one year.

GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT.

Lancaster.

—In last week's issue of the Orange County Reporter, a newspaper published at Oakland, Fla., there appears a two column article descriptive of Killarney, the town founded Col. B. M. Bartlett, of this place. The writer thinks the town has a brilliant future in store for it.

—Miss Kate Brown, of London, is visiting her cousin Miss Mattie Brown. Mrs. C. W. Sweeney has returned from a visit to Columbia, Ky. Mr. McClure, of Palmetto county, was here last week with a view of locating. Col. J. B. Brewer has returned from Cincinnati. Mr. J. C. Thompson and family are visiting relatives at Hustonville. Mrs. Mrs. T. P. Wherritt has returned from Cincinnati.

—News comes from Hickman, Ky., that coopers employed by the Carley Distilling Company have gone out on a strike. A Knights of Labor lodge was recently organized there, which all the workmen joined, and it is understood that the strike was caused by the company refusing to accede to some demands made by the men since going into the new organization.

—Mr. J. M. Humphrey, of Chattanooga, Route Agent for the Baltimore & Ohio Express Company, was here Friday to make arrangements for establishing an agency of his company at this place. Wagons will be run to connect with the Southern trains at Danville. They will leave here at 9 A. M. and return at 2:30 P. M. Mr. George D. Burdett will be appointed agent here should the line be established.

—The examining trial of James Hamilton, charged with shooting Joe P. Turner on last Monday, was called before County Judge Walker to-day. Both sides announced themselves ready and the examination of witnesses was begun. The trial will likely consume all of to-day. County Attorney Brown is assisted by W. O. Bradley and Judge M. H. Owsley for the prosecution. H. C. Kaufmann, R. H. Tomlinson and L. F. Hubble have been retained for the defense.

—The Danville Advocate can't see, and nobody else can either, why Dr. Pettus should not be elected by a rousing majority and adds: "We are glad to note that the doctor promises to make an active canvass, and we most sincerely hope for his success."

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Nath Woodcock sold to Mr. Lynch, of Knoxville, last week a fine chestnut gelding for $175.

—Mr. Richard Scanlan and Miss Mary C. Scanlan obtained marriage license on Friday.

—Bruce, Lee & Co. sold Monday morning to Mr. Brady, of Atlanta, a fine bay, 15 hand-high harness mare for $200.

—Mrs. George Smith died Friday, after a long illness. The remains were forwarded Saturday to Cleveland, Ohio, for burial.

—Willis Wright was fined $50 Saturday for totting a pistol. William Reed, with whom Willis had a fight on the same day, was fined $10.

—Rev. J. T. Lapsley preached at the Walnut street Methodist church, South, Sunday morning and night, Mr. Pierce, the pastor, being absent in Florida.

—Dr. L. S. McMurtry returned Sunday from New York and Philadelphia, where he has been since March 1st, attending medical lectures.

—Mr. Louis Cohn, the Clothier, has determined to leave Danville and will from this time on close out his large stock of fashionable clothing, boots and shoes and furnishing goods at cost. When he says cost he means it. Now is the time for bargain.

—The funeral of Judge F. T. Fox Saturday day was one of the largest seen in Danville for a long time. The religious services were conducted by Revs. E. M. Green and J. L. McKee; the Masonic ceremonies by Mr. Henry G. Sandifer, Master of the lodge here. Judge Fox's children present at the funeral were Thomas H. Fox, Mr. Sterling; F. T. Fox, Kansas City; Mrs. A. M. Sea, Kansas City; Mrs. J. C. Caldwell and Mr. C. C. Fox, this county.

—The following is the vote of Boyle county at the election Saturday for the nomination for Representative: Danville, W. J. Lyle 280; R. J. Breckinridge 196; W. E. Grubbs 17; Perryville, Lyle 91; Breckinridge 105; Grubbs 47; Parkville, Lyle 142; Breckinridge 50; Grubbs 13; Shelby City, Lyle 36; Breckinridge 33; Grubbs 112; Minor's Store, Lyle 48; Breckinridge 16; Grubbs 2; Aliceton, Lyle 16; Breckinridge 18; Grubbs 19. Lyle's majority over Breckinridge, 193; over Grubbs, 402. The above figures are subject to recount, which will not materially change them.

CRAB ORCHARD, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Rev. L. B. Johnston will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday morning.

—Mr. W. M. O'Bryan has moved to the house formerly occupied by Mr. Ottenheimer.

—The lower end of Main street looks rather odd since the frame part of the old Carson House has been torn away.

—Miss Katie James came up from Danville and spent Saturday and Sunday at home. Mr. Henry Vimont, of Millersburg, is in town this week. Mr. Hal Moore has gone to Chicago. Miss Sabra Hays, who has been visiting Miss Lou James, returned to Stanford Monday. Mr. John Magee paid a short visit to his father-in-law, Mr. Ward.

—CHEAP MILLINERY.—I have just received a large line of spring and summer millinery and invite the ladies to call and examine them. I will have an opening on Wednesday and Thursday; by calling on those days will have a large line to select from. Remember I sell for cash and at cost, too, if necessary. I thank you for past patronage and ask for a continuance in the future. Bring a little money and get a big bargain. Mrs. Fannie Edmiston.

RELIGIOUS.

—Dr. H. C. Morrison, formerly of the Louisville conference, has been in Atlanta for 90 days, and has received 194 members, of which 129 came in last Sunday. The total membership is 1,201.

—The Georgian Church of Jesus Christ, otherwise non-polemical Mormons, are holding a conference at the temple erected by Joseph Smith and his followers 50 years ago at Kirtland, O.

—Macaulay's theatre at Louisville was packed Sunday afternoon to hear Sam Jones, who was there in the interest of the Holcombe Mission. At the conclusion of his sermon $2,500 in subscriptions were taken up.

—Brother Barnes did not stop long in Tupelo, but went on to Jackson, Miss., where he is now preaching. He has his face turned Kentuckyward and will be here when the May flowers bloom. Louisville, Georgetown, Richmond and perhaps Stanford are on the list for early meetings.

—Eighteen persons have died in Knoxville of a malignant type of measles.

—J. T. Anthony, an incestuous brute is in jail at Columbia, S. C., for incest with his two daughters, 12 and 17 years of age.

—The new library building at Washington is to cover 2½ acres of ground and its cost is figured at $3,000,000, but it is said to say that three times that amount will be called for before it is through.

—The Grand Lodge, Knights of Honor, will begin its 9th annual session at Louisville to-day. There will be about 127 lodges represented from all parts of the State, and the session will probably last several days.

—The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company will soon be the largest company of the kind in the United States. When the furnaces which are now well under way are completed, which will be during the year, the company will have ten furnaces, making about 1,200 tons of iron per day; the coal output will be 5,000 tons per day, with about 2,500 coke ovens, besides its several large manufacturing enterprises, all of which are in successful operation. This company owns about 196,000 acres of iron and coal lands in Tennessee and Alabama. The number of men employed will be over 5,000.
